Dear Eric:

May I first congratulate you on the engagement of your daughter, and my wife and I certainly extend our very best wishes to Mrs. Newman and to you.

Forwarded herewith is a copy of the ^{list of} Boyd Pennsylvania Colonial notes. I am glad that this will make your work easier.

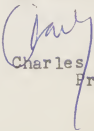

The Vernon Brown - Chase-Manhattan matter certainly was a sorry episode and I think we all feel exactly the same way but I think you will be interested to know that he is now connected with the Friedberg organization.

Frankly, I had not realized that you were going to Mongolia and will look forward to hearing more about it when next you are in New York.

John has not returned as yet from the West and as a matter of fact, will not be here until the middle of next week. Keep us advised how things are going and in the meantime beg to remain with warm personal regards.

Sincerely,

NEW NETHERLANDS COIN CO. INC.

Mr. Charles Wormser
New Netherlands Coin Company
Suite 401, 1 West 47th Street
New York 36, New York

Dear Charles:

I enjoyed immensely and am returning herewith the Pennsylvania notes from the Boyd collection.

I call your particular attention to the fact that the sheet containing the June 15, 1767 issue is not listed in your inventory and contains a strip of three notes as well as two signed six pounds notes. I suggest you add this to the inventory.

Please send me a couple of the other States as promptly as you can as I want to complete my work on them prior to coming to New York on September 13. I will then bring them back and take another group.

I also call your attention to the fact that there is a February 28, 1746 Delaware note in the Pennsylvania group. This was probably just an error of Fred's.

I have taken a substantial number of Xerox photos of the notes and they have come out rather well.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

ERIC P. NEWMAN

FOLD ↑ Charles has given me your letter of August 22nd re the Freeman Collection to answer.

To begin with, we do not have authority to sell the Boyd Colonial currency at this time, but we certainly anticipate obtaining same. On the other hand, it is my strong opinion, that Colonial paper money generally is under-priced, and that you would be wise to purchase the Harley Freeman Collection, if available and if at all within reason. A Florida collector-dealer just purchased the Freeman obsolete, which I am sorry about, as I would have liked to have purchased it myself. The Freeman Colonial paper would be an equal or better deal, at least from the appreciation, if not historical viewpoint.

Glad that you liked the Trenholme spark erosion copy of the CSA half. Lastly, have you made Zerox copy of the Breen N.J. manuscript, as yet?

Very best regards.

Sincerely,

 John J. Ford, Jr.

P.S. Clearly understand that you will want some Boyd material, even if you buy Freeman collection. I would not hesitate to purchase if the latter.

Dear Eric:

I have not forgotten our conversation re the Colonial notes while you were in New York and did not want you to think that I had.

However, John has been out of the office most of the time working on the sale and since this as I explained to you while here, is the first order of business, I have not approached him and will not until he has completed this particular endeavor.

I do think that we will have everything at the printer by early next week and the Boyd Colonial notes will be one of the first matters up for discussion. What will result I don't know but at least I hope to have something to write you.

Trust this finds you well, and with warm personal regards.

Dear Charles:

Thank you, very much, for keeping my interest in the Boyd Colonial paper money on top of the docket. It certainly needs urgent action.

If it can be bought at a reasonable price I will put up all the money and, after an opportunity to choose what I want, I will turn over the other items, plus my own collection, for resale by you. We will have no trouble in allocating all of the items from a value point of view into the total cost. I will see that John has adequate items for his collection, based upon the price we may have to pay.

Colonial paper money is quite dead at present, according to what I hear.

Please let me hear from you soon.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Eric:

Back in 1957, at the St. Louis Central States Convention, you gave me one of your famous "Pine Tree" neck ties.

I now would like to have some curtains made for my small office at home, and wonder if you could find out who manufactured this material, and if it is still available.

I hope that it comes with matching wall paper, and that it comes in the right colors. Please see what you can do for me in reference to this.

The situation looks bright in reference to the Boyd material, and as Charles probably told you, we have made some concrete initial progress. Will now keep at it!

Warm regards.

Sincerely,

John J. Ford, Jr.

In checking the Massachusetts Colonial paper money in the Boyd collection, I note the following:

The 20 shilling December 10, 1690 Massachusetts note is not in the inventory or in the collection examined. This was acquired by Boyd from the Chapman collection and it may have been kept in the vault by him, separate from the collection. It should be located.

In the June 10, 1776 issue, a 1 shilling note, No. 4382, is listed as a 10 pence note. The 10 pence note of the same date, being No. 4159, is omitted from the listing. What happened is that the number of the 1 shilling note was listed as the number of the 10 pence note and the 1 shilling note was omitted altogether.

EPN/atb

January 16, 1964

The following discrepancies were noticed in the Breen inventory of the Boyd paper money:

New Jersey

December 20, 1783, No. 1198, is 40 shillings, not 12 shillings

Connecticut

1741 - 2 shillings Ipswich is not Connecticut, but Massachusetts

May 10, 1770, there is one 10 shillings, not two.

June 1, 1775, there are six 10 shillings, not five.

June 7, 1776, there are ten 2/6, not eleven. (Perhaps the missing notes are elsewhere or there was a mixup).

North Carolina

1776, $1 Eagle and Snake variety omitted.

Virginia

March 1, 1781. The note listed as $80, being No. 10099, is actually $150.
